b. [ ] Called Bill Darden, Senate Armed Services Committee staff, and asked if he had had an opportunity to discuss with Senator Russell the Agency's desire to conduct a summer employment program utilizing the dependents of Agency employees. Darden said that in view of the Senator's illness, he had not felt it appropriate to go into matters of business unless they were of extremely pressing importance. He then added that it might be week or ten days before he would be able to take this up with the Senator. He also commented that although he felt there would be no problem on this, it would be presumptuous of him to give an approval. Darden was advised that approval had been obtained from Chairman Rivers and Chairman Mahon and that we were anxious to begin our plans as soon as possible. He said he would take this up with Senator Russell as soon as it would be appropriate.
